Ambition Opens a Showroom Offering IoT Experiences

Name	Ambition Corporation (Securities Code: 3300)
Overview	Ambition opened a showroom that makes full use of IoT. At the showroom, visitors can experience the state-of-the-art IoT service “homepia” free of charge.
About “homepia”	Introducing “homepia” at your place of residence will enable easy operation of home appliances with your smartphone as it functions as a useful measure for home security providing reminders to lock doors as well as the status of open/closed smart-lock doors, etc.
About the showroom	At the showroom, various home appliances can be operated as if you were at home through use of a smartphone. On top of operation of various home appliances, the homepia application is also compatible with Amazon Echo. As this showroom provides easy operation even for those not familiar with IoT or smartphones, anyone can see, feel and experience the application and realize the convenience and comfort it provides.
